On 5 June, the pupils and teachers who will be at TF1 are the finalists in the 11th edition of the largest national school media competition Médiatiks organised by CLEMI. In his spare time, he is also the author of an Instagram account (@demaincommenceaujourd'hui) which has become a comic book.

This comic tells about the daily life of Astrid, aged 9, who has no tongue in cheek and mischievously points out our inconsistencies and contradictions as adults, in a world marked by concerns about global warming, and where technologies sometimes lead to greater absurdities and inequalities.

TF1 Group's news campaign aims to raise awareness among young audiences of the importance of being informed in order to better understand the world. Now more than ever, it's vital to learn how to distinguish between different sources of information, to exercise a critical mind, to sort out what's true from what's false, and to better understand how information is produced and disseminated.
